SPORT NEW KID ON THE KOP

It's his son Paul aged 14

OP this magic moment from a picture that says more than a thousand words.

Kenny Dalglish's kid, Paul, the 14-year-old son of the Liver-pool manager, is captured singing his heart out on the Kop.

It was on the night that his dad made a remarkable come-back at the age of 39 as Liverpool celebrated being crowned champions again.

Poignantly Kenny's boy was wearing a Juventus shirt, and such a fitting touch will not go unnoticed or unappreciated in Italy as English clubs are about to return to European competition six years after Heysel tion six years after Heysel.

Mirror photographer Albert Copper freeze-framed one of the sporting moments of the new decade – the sheer exuberance of Dalglish's son, who was as proud as any of the Kopites belting out 'You'll Never_Walk Alone'

RV HARRY HARRIS

in appreciation of his dad's champions.

Young Dalglish saw what was probably the final appearance in the First Divison of his father, and what a moment it was as Liverpool celebrated their record 18th championship.

Daglish always insists that the players, the fans, and the management at Anfield are one big family, and this is why. There are few moments in sport as touching as this one.

Dalglish insists on keeping his family – four children and wife Marina – from the public gaze.

Kenny and his attractive wife emerged from their private world to comfort the bereaved families and the survivors of Hillsborough. They were commanding figures when Mersey-

But his children are rarely pictured in public. The last time I can recall was five years ago when little Paul was pictured with his big sister outside Buckingham Palace as Kenny received his OBE.

Dalglish raised his arms to salute the Kop after Liveprool's winner against Derby, and no one, apart from Kenny himself, knew that he as also saluting his son.

Who knows who was the prouder? Kenny at his boy Paul, or Paul at his father's achievements as Liverpool manager.

Published by Mirror Group Newspapers (1986) Ltd. at 33 Holborn, London EC1P 1DQ (01-353 0246) and printed by Mirror Colour Print Ltd. at Watford newspaper at the Post Office Serial No. 27,069 ©The Doily Mirror Newspapers, Ltd., 1990, Thursdoy, May 3, 1990